

As part of Intec's 2019 Apprenticeship awards Lisa Gorman has been chosen as a Rising Star of the year.

Lisa works at Damart the clothing company based in Bingley and has achieved an Apprenticeship qualification in Team Leading at L3 in the new Standards.

Lisa has worked extremely hard to achieve her qualification despite having dyslexia and dyspraxia. She has overcome many challenges to manage her team and lead on projects giving her more confidence at all stages in her Apprenticeship Programme. Lisa has been nominated for and achieved internal customer awards at Damart and participated in the company's Team Leader programme. Lisa reflects on the past year "I have adapted my management style to accommodate all my team members and worked hard to build trust and respect. My communication skills have improved as have my organisational skills which help me to plan a strategy to meet the company's objectives"

Lisa continues "Everything about my Apprenticeship has helped me to develop my career in particular being able to apply my learning to the job I am doing"

Lisa's managers Richard Phillips and Amanda Loftus have been impressed with Lisa's commitment throughout combining her day job with her work toward her qualification. "Lisa thrives by taking feedback and learning from others during which she has gained a great deal of knowledge and experience"

"She has achieved excellent results and managed her time well, she loves learning and puts it into practice always with a smile on her face"

Lisa's tutor Emma Jones added "Lisa has developed not just her knowledge and skills throughout the course but her confidence too, she has been a pleasure to work with and I have enjoyed watching Lisa put her new skills in to practice and achieve promotion whilst on her course. Lisa has demonstrated a passion for learning throughout, always wanting to know more and using her own time to research additional information."
